Vuzix Begins Shipments of its Lenovo Co-Branded M100 Smart Glasses into China and Announces SAP's Release of AR Applications for Vuzix Hardware

Commences Sales Shipments of Award-Winning M100 Smart Glasses to China; Company Collaborates with SAP in Showcasing New Augmented Reality Apps at CTIA 2014

September 10, 2014 – Rochester, NY – Vuzix® Corporation (OTCQB: VUZI), a leading supplier of Video Eyewear and Smart Glasses products in the consumer, commercial and entertainment markets, is pleased to announce that it has commenced first volume shipments of its M100 Smart Glasses to Lenovo China. Vuzix has worked closely with Lenovo to develop the award-winning Vuzix M100 Smart Glasses, co-branded with Lenovo NBD (New Business Development) Group, for the Chinese marketplace to create an optimized Smart Glasses experience with enhanced operating systems for a growing ecosystem and application base. This version will be sold and marketed by Lenovo across China with further shipments expected to take place this fall.

Continuing the expansion of available M100 Smart Glass applications, this week SAP announced that it will be showcasing two forthcoming augmented reality (AR) apps at the CTIA 2014, held on September 9th-11th in Las Vegas. The SAP® AR Warehouse Picker mobile app and SAP AR Service Technician mobile app are designed to help simplify and improve the user experience and work processes by offering a hands-free working experience and streamlined process that, for example, allow warehouse picking as much as 2 times faster than current methods.

Vuzix CEO and President Paul J. Travers said, "We are excited with the progress we have been making with industry leading companies like Lenovo, Sap and others. In July we announced our agreement with Lenovo to market and ship our award-winning M100 Smart Glasses throughout China, which has generated an immediate positive impact on the business to further expand our revenue base. In addition, we have been working closely with SAP to develop Smart Glasses based productivity applications for the industrial user base and look forward to assisting them with many successful implementations of their software around the M100." Travers added, "It is great to see these industry leaders adopt and support Vuzix technology. It's a vote of confidence in wearable technology and more specifically in Vuzix and our offerings."
