Vuzix to Exhibit at ATA 2016, American Telemedicine Association's Annual Conference & Trade Show

Company will showcase leading use cases in telemedicine for its Smart Glasses

ROCHESTER, N.Y., May 11, 2016 - Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI), a leading supplier of Video Eyewear and Smart Glasses products in the consumer, enterprise, and entertainment markets, is pleased to announce that the Company will exhibit its wearable technology products at the ATA 2016, the largest and most comprehensive meeting focused on telemedicine, digital, connected and mobile health in the world. For over 20 years, the American Telemedicine Association's (ATA) Annual Conference & Trade Show has been the premier forum for healthcare professionals and entrepreneurs in the telemedicine, telehealth and mHealth space.

The event will be held May 14-17, 2016 in Minneapolis, MN at the Minneapolis Convention Center. It is organized by ATA, the American Telemedicine Association, the leading resource and advocate promoting access to medical care for consumers and health professionals via telecommunications technology. To learn more about the event, please click here: <http://hub.americantelemed.org/ata2016new/about/aboutata2016>.

Visitors to Vuzix' booth 2036 will have the opportunity to review the Company's M100 Smart Glasses and soon to be launched M300 and their functionality for telemedicine applications, such as electronic record keeping compliance, remote telemedicine via the glasses, surgical assistance and training, and more. Vuzix partner AMA (a sister company of Ubisoft) will also be in attendance to demonstrate how its Xpert Eye P1 Kit works with the M100. AMA is an innovative French company that was founded in 2004 by Christian Guillemot and has focused on mobile applications for the past decade.
